

Electronic Service of Civil Appellate Briefs: Terms of Use

Posted: 2/28/2008

The California Supreme Court ("Court") provides this Electronic Notification Address (the "Service") to appellants and their legal representatives ("Appellant") in order to enable the electronic service of copies of briefs ("Brief" or "Briefs") to the Court under California Rules of Court, rule 8.212.

By checking the "I have read and agree to the terms of use" box on the online Electronic Service of Civil Appellate Briefs page, and accessing and using the Service, Appellant hereby agrees to the following terms and conditions, which must apply only to the serving of the copies of briefs to the Court under California Rules of Court, rule 8.212:

1. Appellant agrees to follow all applicable statutes, rules, regulations, and court orders, including without limitation the California Rules of Court, and the standing orders of the judges of the courts, in the deposit of Briefs. In particular, Appellant must follow rule 8.212 of the California Rules of Court and must:
  - a. comply with any Court requirements designed to ensure the integrity of the Service and to protect sensitive personal information, including the Court's protective nondisclosure policy for living victims of sex crimes and minors innocently involved in appellate court proceedings (see Protective Nondisclosure of Identity Policy in the Cal. Style Manual (4th ed. 2000) section 5:9 et seq. provided below);
  - b. furnish information the Court requires for case processing;
  - c. take all reasonable steps to ensure that the Brief does not contain defective or malicious computer code, including without limitation computer viruses or "malware" that might be harmful or damaging to the Service and to other users; and
  - d. not take any action that might damage or compromise the security of the Service or this web site, or render the Service inaccessible to other users.
2. For any documents to be filed "under seal," Appellant must ensure the confidentiality of the documents as required by any applicable statute, rule, regulation, or court order, particularly any order of the court sealing the documents and California Rules of Court, rules 8.160, 2.550, and 2.551, as applicable.
3. The Court may suspend or discontinue Appellant's access to the Service in order to protect its security or to prevent damage, misuse, or fraud. If Appellant's access to the Service is thereby denied, Appellant may serve the copies of the Briefs to the Court according to the requirements of rule 8.212(c)(2)(B).

4. The Service is provided “As Is” and “As Available.” The Court expressly disclaims any and all warranties, express or implied, including without limitation any implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or noninfringement. The Court makes no warranties that the Service or its use will be uninterrupted, timely, or error-free or will meet the requirements or expectations of Appellant.
5. Neither the Court nor any Judicial Branch Entity as defined in California Government Code section 900.3 will be liable to Appellant for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or exemplary damages, including without limitation damages for loss of profits, goodwill, use, data, or other intangible losses (even if the Court or any other Judicial Branch Entity has been advised of the possibility of such damages) resulting from the use or the inability to use the Service.
6. The Court reserves the right to modify these Terms of Use at any time without prior notice. Appellant’s use of the Service following any such modification constitutes agreement to follow and be bound by the Terms of Use as modified. The last date these Terms of Use were revised is set forth above.

Contact:

Supreme Court of California, 415-865-7000

More resources:

How to Serve Civil Appellate Briefs on the Supreme Court
<http://www.courtinfo.ca.gov/courts/courtsofappeal/appbriefs.cfm>

PROTECTIVE NONDISCLOSURE OF IDENTITY POLICY

(Reprinted with permission from Cal. Style Manual (4th ed. 2000).)

§ 5:9 Policy regarding nondisclosure of victim or minor

The Supreme Court has issued the following policy statement to all appellate courts: "To prevent the publication of damaging disclosures concerning living victims of sex crimes and minors innocently involved in appellate court proceedings it is requested that the names of these persons be omitted from all appellate court opinions whenever their best interests would be served by anonymity. Anonymity, however, is inappropriate for homicide victims, who are to be identified whenever possible." Thus, a homicide victim's name is not suppressed even if a sex crime was also committed against that victim. Individuals entitled to protective nondisclosure are described by first name and last initial, or by referring to them by their status. Do not use middle names or middle initials, street addresses, or full birth dates. The name "Anonymous" and other fictitious names should be avoided absent a court order under Penal Code section 293.5 (Jane Doe or John Doe designation).

Susan T.
The complaining witness the 10-year-old child
the victim (Mary)
Anna B., not Anna Marie B. or Anna M. B.

§ 5:10 Application to minors, juvenile court law

The identity of minors involved in juvenile court proceedings, or innocently involved in appellate court proceedings, should be protected both in the title and in the body of an opinion, generally by using the first name and last initial. If a parent has the same last name as the minor, the parent's last name should be suppressed as well. If the minor's first name is so unusual as to defeat the objective of anonymity, only the minor's initials should be used.

In re CHANTAL S., a Person Coming
Under the Juvenile Court Law.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SOCIAL SERVICES,

Plaintiff and Respondent,

v.

RANDALL S.,
Defendant and Appellant. [title]

A petition charged John E., a minor, with burglary.
The two minors, K.D. and J.D., were removed from their parents' home.
Fred E. testified at the juvenile court hearing of his daughter Mary E.

The nondisclosure policy does not apply where the minor is held to answer as an adult in criminal proceedings. However, nondisclosure is followed when a minor successfully seeks relief in a collateral proceeding, such as a petition for a writ of mandate to compel the juvenile court to reconsider its determination that he or she was not amenable to treatment under juvenile law.

§ 5:11      Adult plaintiff's action for wrongdoing committed during plaintiff's minority

Protective nondisclosure should not be applied to an adult who is bringing an action for wrongdoing committed against him or her during the plaintiff's minority. (See, e.g., Sellery v. Cressey (1996) 48 Cal.App.4th 538; Doyle v. Fenster (1996) 47 Cal.App.4th 1701.)

§ 5:12      Jurors and witnesses

After a verdict in a criminal matter, court records containing juror personal identifying information are sealed, and that information remains confidential (Code Civ. Proc., §§ 206, 237). In such cases, care must be taken to ensure that protected jurors not be identified in opinions. Initials or juror identification numbers, or similar identification adopted by local court rules or policies, may be used instead of names. Similarly, the identities of victims or witnesses in criminal matters may be subject to protective nondisclosure. (See, e.g., Pen. Code, § 1054.7.) Again, care must be taken to ensure that those persons not be identified in opinions.

§ 5:13      Lanterman-Petris-Short conservatees

Welfare and Institutions Code section 5325.1, subdivision (b), part of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act (Welf. & Inst. Code, § 5000 et seq.) protects a conservatee's right to dignity, privacy, and care. Accordingly, the identity of such conservatees should not be disclosed. (See, e.g., Conservatorship of Susan T. (1994) 8 Cal.4th 1005.)